PRESS COMMUNIQUE No. 9.

Dated Part St. George, the 16th November 1933.

No. 100.—

[Cotton Ginning and Pressing charges—Levy of high rates through system of "Pools"—Depreciated.]

The Indian Cotton Committee has recently drawn attention to the fact that in many cotton tracts owing to existence of pools, the charges for ginning and pressing of cotton are much higher than those elsewhere to leave a reasonable margin over the cost of ginning and pressing for the gin and press owner. It expressed the opinion that, having regard to the present low level of prices which has seriously affected the grower, everything possible should be done to reduce his losses. One of the measures of relief which it has suggested as immediately possible is reduction of ginning and pressing charges.

As early as August 1929, the Madras Government drew the attention of Collectors, Chairmen of Municipal Councils and Presidents of local bodies to the existence of pools in certain parts of the Presidency and to the observations of the Indian Cotton Committee in its report deprecating this system as being in many ways objectionable and prejudicial to the interests of the cultivator. The Government have now with reference to the Indian Cotton Committee's representations, caused inquiries to be made as to the existence of pools in the Presidency and of the rates of charges levied for ginning and pressing. The Director of Agriculture addressed a circular in June last to the proprietors of these factories pointing out the harmful effect of the system of pools and appealing to them to reduce the rates where they were unreasonably high. He has given in his circular the rates which would leave a reasonable margin over the cost of ginning and pressing for the gin and press owner and exhorted the factories to limit their charges to these rates.

Pools now exist at Bellary, Adoni, Talpatti, Guntur and Tiruppur. The Government have considered the replies of the proprietors to the Director's circular letter. The general trend of these replies shows that the factories are reluctant to adopt reduced rates. It is open to the Government to resort to compulsion through legislation but they are loth to do so now and they would rather appeal to the good sense of all factory owners to discourage the pooling system and adopt reasonable charges. The "pool" system is opposed to the interests not only of factories but also of producers who are already hit hard by the present slump in prices, which, if timely relief is not given to the producer, is likely to result in the long run on the successful working of the gin and presser. The Government trust that proprietors of factories will respond to the appeal, put an end to the pooling system, obtain the necessary to undertake legislative measures to remove the evils of the system and afford the necessary relief to the grower on whose contentment ultimately rests the prosperity of the trade.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTIFICATIONS.

THE MADRAS TEXT-BOOK COMMITTEE.

PETITIONERS.

A scrutiny of books recently referred to the Text-Book Committee has revealed that some of the books submitted for use in schools containing grossly inaccurate facts, statements, mostly or mainly appreciable and noticeable omissions in religious or other descriptions of particular organisations as a result of which such books were either entirely rejected as unsuitable, or the authors or publishers concerned had to be asked to revise the books.

As this causes much inconvenience to the department and to authors and publishers, and as the books submitted for review should obviously be free from such defects, it is hereby notified for the guidance of authors and publishers that they should be scrupulously careful in the preparation of books which contain issues which are in any way likely to prove controversial. Otherwise, they run the risk of a whole book being rejected or the approval of previously accepted, being cancelled.

Attention is also drawn to rule 24 of the rules relating to the Text-Book Committee.

R. M. STATHAM,

Director of Public Instruction,
Madras, 22nd November 1933.

18. Candidates appearing at centre where they are not known must be prepared to satisfy the Chief Superintendent of each centre as to their identity. They shall also be required to place their signatures upon the admission card issued by them before the Chief Superintendent of the respective centre.
